ROCKET FUEL FOR YOUR RACE GUN.

Hornady's new 6.5 Creedmoor is as pedigreed as it is precise. Developed by Dave Emary, Hornady's Senior Ballistic Scientist and Dennis DeMille, General Manager of Creedmoor® Sports and two-time NRA National High Power Rifle Champion, this cartridge has more pedigree than any other match cartridge on the market.

The 6.5 Creedmoor was designed to allow any shooter to compete at the highest level with factory-loaded ammunition. Built for match rifles, including the Tubb 2000 and DPMS. Its case is slightly shorter than the 260 Remington, eliminating any "Cartridge Overall Length" issues when using 308 Winchester length magazines.

The 6.5 Creedmoor delivers world-class long-range performance in a factory loaded cartridge.

A sharper 300 shoulder and aggressive body taper allow the 6.5 Creedmoor to deliver higher velocities than other 6mm and 6.5mm cartridges. Speed helps in long-range match shooting, and the 6.5 Creedmoor operates at standard 308 Winchester pressures, thus increasing barrel and case life. Wind and gravity have less effect on fast bullets because they spend less time in the air. Slower cartridges experience more drop and wind drift, making it harder to predict performance on target. The 6.5 Creedmoor is the ultimate match cartridge.
